Welcome Lindsey Jackson

Gammage & Burnham in Phoenix is pleased to announce the addition of Lindsey A. Jackson to the firm. Formerly an associate at Becker & House in Scottsdale, Jackson's practice is focused on estate planning and taxation. Jackson graduated magna cum laude from Arizona State University in 2010, where she received the CALI Excellence Award in Real Estate Tax Planning. She is an active member of the Central Arizona Estate Planning Council and a founding Board Member of the Emerging Professionals Group for the Council.

According to the firm's senior member of the estate planning department, James F. Polese, "Lindsey's substantial grounding in advanced planning techniques provides additional depth to our estate and tax planning team." Gammage & Burnham is a full service business law firm located in downtown Phoenix.
